

Wailing Women Worldwide

International Conference Training for the Nations

Publication & Editing

INTRODUCTION

The Lord gave the word: great was the company of those that published it. Psalm 68:11

The Publications Department is an important arm of the work of Wailing Women Worldwide. This arm transcribes, collates, edits and publishes the messages that the Lord God Almighty gives to Wailing Women Worldwide. Generally, the Lord speaks to us in prophecy and teaches us by the Holy Spirit. These prophetic messages are then written down, edited and published for the benefit of members.

Training Objectives

OBJECTIVE: To train a global company of writers, editors and publishers of God’s word to help prepare the World for the second coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. According to Psalms 68:11: “The Lord gave the word: great was the company of those that published it.”

Our major aim in the Editorial Unit is to present the messages the Lord brings to us in exactly the form that the Lord gives to us. We do not add or subtract.

Therefore, we are very careful in editing the manuscripts and we pray that the Lord God would help us and all who will come after us to do our very best.

Training Requirements

- Each one of us has to come with a heart to learn
- Come with a heart to volunteer your skills and help
- Note the needs of the department, and work for better accomplishments
- Get engaged for more fruitfulness

MATERIALS PUBLISHED SO FAR BY THE PUBLICATIONS UNIT

The department has released over twenty publications which include tracts, pamphlets, magazines and books, published in English, French, Spanish and Chinese. The books are in four categories:

A. The Prophetic Books: 10 Volumes

These are the direct words of prophecy which come to us during our times of retreat, prayer meetings and solemn assemblies. These messages are recorded on tape, then transcribed and edited for publication. This category of books are called WORDS FROM THE FATHER'S HEART TO THE WAILING WOMEN WORLDWIDE. As at July 2021, we have published nine (9) volumes of this category of Books. Volume 10 is being prepared.

B: The Second Category
The Training Manuals

The second category of publications are the Training Manuals. These are messages and topics that the Lord brings to us and asks us to study, teach other wailing women and then document for posterity. Thus far, we have four (4) volumes of these training manuals. We call them Training Manuals For Wailing Women Worldwide. As the name implies, these books are used to instruct and train Wailing Women, Wailing Daughters and Sons as well as Polished Arrows. This makes for standardization and universal application

B: The Third Category Books for maintaining God's Chosen Pattern and Systems for the Work

The third category of our publications are the Training Materials which deal with systems and the approved pattern for carrying out the work as revealed to the founding Team of International Coordinators. The three books in this category are:

➤ A Handbook For The Wailing Women Worldwide

➤ The Mandate Of The Wailing Women Worldwide

➤ The Organizational Management System of The Wailing Women Worldwide (OMS).

D: Tracts, Pamphlets and Magazines

- In the last twenty-three (23) years, the Publications department has produced several tracts and pamphlets as well as one magazine.
- The tracts were on topics that God asked us to print and circulate to believers and leaders of the church. These range from God's Mandate to the Church and His desire to wake her from slumber; His message to nations, communities and institutions as well as His rebuke concerning the current state of backsliding among believers. Sometimes, The Lord speaks to us concerning our health and wellbeing and we publish these in pamphlets and distribute them to people. The magazine was published to mark the tenth anniversary of Wailing Women Worldwide.

UNITS IN THE PUBLICATIONS DEPARTMENT

The Publications Department has four distinct units:

- The Collation Unit
- The Editorial Unit
- The Sales Unit
- The Documentation and Storage Unit.

The International Office of The Wailing Women Worldwide does the documentation for all our publications.

Step Up And Be Equipped to Serve

EDITING AND PUBLICATION

Editing and publication refers to the work involved in the preparation and issuing of a book, journal, piece of music, or other work for public sale; the action of making a book, magazine, newspaper, or document, generally known or the act of making information or writing available, especially in printed form

PLANNING FOR PUBLICATION

Here we are looking at some important questions we must consider at the planning stage which should be answered before deciding how a manuscript can best be published. These six questions are Who? Where? What? Why? When? And How?

- Who? Who has the material been written for? (Audience)
- Where? Where do the intended readers live? Where will they use the publication?
- What is being said?
- Why is the material being published?
- To report, teach, record, announce, persuade, warn, entertain, increase prestige for personal advancement, and please the boss, other reasons.
- When is the material going to be used?
- Will it be of value for only a short time? for many years?
- Is it needed at once? If not, when?

What is the best medium for communicating this message?

- There are many ways to make the results of research available to the people who can use them. Print is an important medium, but so are radio, television, slide shows, overhead transparencies, lectures, seminars, and even personal letters.
- Radio can be particularly useful in reaching rural people who may have difficulty reading or who have little time to read. This manual is concerned only with printed publication. But editors should be aware that print is not the only way to communicate, and for some audiences it is not even the best way.

What is the best medium for communicating this message?

- How much illustrations? - What is the right balance of text and pictures?
- What words? - What is the appropriate language for these readers? The level of language is usually decided by the type of publication, the reason why the material is being published, and the type of reader the author wants to reach.
- Do Research - One of the best ways to find answers to these questions is to study successful publications and find out how other editors answered them. Good editors spend time in bookstores and libraries and browsing through magazine racks. They are not just reading for content. They are analyzing publications, studying strengths and weaknesses and techniques. Editors need to do research just as much as other specialists.

PRIMARY OR SECONDARY INFORMATION

- Is this important new information that should appear in a primary publication? Would it serve the author's purpose better in another kind of publication?
- Primary publications contain material that is new and has not been published before
- Secondary forms of publication include textbooks, general books and magazines, newsletters, reference books, newspaper and magazine articles, posters, and press releases. How Formal - Should this publication be formal or informal in style?
- How long? - How much information must be communicated? What Format? - What is the most suitable size and shape?
- How Many? - How many people do we want to reach? How many copies should we print?
- How costly? - How much money is available? Some forms of publication cost more than others. Often money decides what form a publication will take.
- How much does the editor have to spend?
- How much can the reader afford to pay?

EDITING

Editing – is to prepare (written material) for publication by correcting, condensing, or otherwise modifying it, the process of making changes to a text or film, deciding what will be removed and what will be kept in, in order to prepare it for being printed or shown.

3 NECESSARY SKILLS FOR BOOK EDITORS

- Attention to detail. Sometimes an editor's job involves fact-checking and continuity.
- Strong communication. Great editors know what makes a good book, and they know how to honestly and effectively communicate that information to the writer.
- Good writing skills

POINTS TO PONDER...

DECLARATION

Many of us look at the Bible as one big book, but it's actually many different books written by different authors organized in a way to guide and teach us to know the nature and revelation of God, His kingdom and people. The authors range from orphans, righteous men, prophets, widows, adulterers, a man who murdered Christians for their faith etc. People like you and I, and yet God used them to tell His story.

If all scripture, written by these different writers, is said to be "inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness; that the man of God may be adequate, equipped for every good work" (2 Tim. 3:16-17), it stands to reason, God can you use to tell his story through your experience.

Just like writers today, I can imagine the authors of the books of the Bible getting weary and second guessing and doubting whether their writing is actually from the heart of God or their own frivolous human thinking. Can you relate?

While many of the authors of the Bible were speaking to a particular audience for a specific purpose, their words inspire and transform us today.

And who knows whether you have attained royalty for such a time as this [and for this very purpose]?”

Psalm 19:1-4

*The heavens are telling of the glory of God;
And the expanse [of heaven] is declaring the work of His hands. Day after day pours forth speech, And night after night reveals knowledge. There is no speech, nor are there [spoken] words [from the stars]; Their voice is not heard. Yet their voice [in quiet evidence] has gone out through all the earth, Their words to the end of the world. In them and in the heavens He has made a tent for the sun*

FINAL THOUGHTS

It has been observed that revivals can come through the spoken word, but in depth training to maintain the flame of revival can only be done when things are documented.

Without the written word, the move of the Wailing Women Worldwide may not be sustained in the way God wants it.

2 Timothy 2:15: Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.*
